Job Description

About Dumont Nickel and NiVolt:

Dumont is a large-scale nickel and cobalt deposit located 25 km west of the town of Amos in the established Abitibi mining camp in the mining-friendly province of Québec. Dumont Nickel and NiVolt are poised to sustainably contribute to the energy transition and Quebec's growing battery industry, by producing an annual average of 39,000 tonnes of nickel and Cobalt in a Mixed Hydroxide Precipitate (MHP) concentrated for over 30 years from a mine, concentrator, and a hydro-metallurgical plant. The project has the potential to provide nickel for approximately 780,000 electric vehicles per year based on a high nickel cathode chemistry. The nickel from Dumont will have a low carbon footprint driven by Quebec's renewable energy grid and the carbon capture capacity of the serpentine waste rock. The Dumont and NiVolt projects maintain its social license to operate via continuous community engagement and an Impact and Benefit Agreement with Dumont's First Nations partners, the Abitibiwinni First Nation.

The Dumont Nickel and NiVolt Projects are held 100% by Kinterra Capitals, one of the largest undeveloped fully permitted and shovel ready nickel-sulphide deposits. Kinterra Capital ("Kinterra"), Toronto-based private equity firm investing in the people, ideas, critical minerals, and strategic infrastructure necessary to accelerate the energy transition.
